

ONECOREHIVE

Technical Whitepaper

Privacy by Design

Executive Summary

Privacy is embedded into the architecture through local processing, data minimization and transparent governance.

Principles

Data minimization, local processing, purpose limitation, user control and transparency.

Governance

Organizations remain responsible for retention, backup and access management.

Conclusion

Privacy is an architectural principle rather than an optional feature.